FOUNDER'S DESK

Gurpreet S. Pasricha
Founder Trustee

Punjabi Chamber of Commerce (PCC) is making remarkable progress as we forge ahead with numerous in-person events worldwide. We extend our heartfelt gratitude to our community members, co-chairs, and exceptional leaders within our membership, who continuously contribute to the growth and strength of our community.

Last month, PCC organized successful events, bringing together professionals from diverse backgrounds onto a unified platform. The overwhelming response and participation further exemplified the importance of fostering connections and collaboration.

With our Charter Membership now in full swing, I am thrilled to witness the tremendous support from our community members as they embrace our Tiered Level Membership. This level of engagement demonstrates the shared commitment to the PCC's mission and vision.

Furthermore, I am delighted to announce that the highly anticipated PCC Global Gala website has officially gone live! This achievement marks a significant milestone in our journey towards hosting an unforgettable event. Now, you can conveniently purchase tickets for this grand occasion right from the comfort of your desk.

We encourage everyone to visit the PCC Global Gala website to explore the exciting details and be sure to secure your tickets early to ensure your presence at this momentous celebration.

We extend our sincere appreciation to all the individuals and organizations who have contributed to the success and growth of the Punjabi Chamber of Commerce. Together, we will continue to create meaningful connections, foster economic development, and empower our community on a global scale.

THE FUTURE OF WORK: ADAPTING TO REMOTE AND HYBRID MODELS

The future of work is rapidly evolving, with remote and hybrid models taking center stage. As technology advances and communication tools become more sophisticated, companies are finding innovative ways to adapt to this new work paradigm.

Remote work: A game-changer for employees and companies

Remote work has gained tremendous popularity recently due to its numerous benefits. Employees now have the freedom to work from anywhere, eliminating lengthy commutes and achieving a better work-life balance. Additionally, remote work allows companies to tap into a global talent pool, fostering diversity and inclusion while reducing overhead costs.

Hybrid work: The best of both worlds

However, the future of work is wider than remote arrangements; hybrid models are also emerging. Hybrid work combines the flexibility of remote work with the advantages of in-person collaboration. This approach allows employees to split their time between the office and remote locations, promoting teamwork and stronger interpersonal relationships.

Investing in communication and collaboration tools

Organizations must invest in communication and collaboration tools to adapt to this evolving landscape. Video conferencing, instant messaging platforms, and project management software facilitate better interaction and efficient task management. Moreover, companies must prioritize employee well-being by establishing clear work-life boundaries, providing support, and promoting a healthy work culture.

Embracing the future: Overcoming challenges

As the future of work unfolds, businesses must embrace remote and hybrid models while addressing their unique challenges. Employers should focus on outcomes rather than hours worked, foster trust among team members, and nurture a sense of belonging. By embracing these new work models, companies can unlock the full potential of their workforce and shape a future where work becomes an enriching and fulfilling experience for all.

Bringing back The Doctor-Patient Relationship

We believe that a better primary care model exists. A model that makes it possible to receive high quality, individualized care with longer visits and lower costs to help you get healthy and stay healthy.

Meet Dr. Ankit Malik

Dr. Malik is board certified by the American Board of Obesity Medicine and dual board certified in Family Medicine (ABFM & ABOFP). He received his Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine (D.O.) from Kansas City University of Medicine and Biosciences and obtained an MBA in Healthcare Management from Rockhurst University in Kansas City, Missouri. He completed his Family Medicine residency training through the St. Luke's Health Network.

During his time as a healthcare provider, Dr. Malik has cared for patients at multiple inpatient and outpatient centers across the country. This diverse set of experience gives him a better understanding of healthcare delivery in the US. With a primary focus on delivering high quality care and aiming for the best outcomes, he founded Executive Medicine. By spending more time listening to and understanding individual needs, Dr. Malik hopes to tackle the root causes of his patients' problems, resulting in better health and longevity for those in his care.
